Miners Have Refused to Negotiate in Great Producing Districts Outside Central Field, Pennsylvania Producer Tells Labor Committee

Says Union Broke Contract

Accuses Mine Leaders of "Autocratic Abuse of Power"—Chairman Nolan Still Hopes to Get Warring Factions Together

Washington, April 6.—A defense of the bituminous coal operators' position in refusing to negotiate a central agreement with the miners' union was given by T. H. Watkins, a spokesman for Pennsylvania producers, before the house labor committee today in its investigation of the coal strike, and at the same time an intimation was given by Attorney General Daugherty through a letter from him which was read into the record, that the mine owners would face no prosecution under anti-trust laws if they again saw fit to fix national wages in the industry by such an agreement.

Other developments today included a statement by Secretary Hoover upon his return from the west that reports, presumably from non-union fields, show that bituminous coal mined on Monday, after the strike had been called, amounted to 372,000 tons and on Tuesday to 542,000 tons. He declared, however, that the time was insufficient to justify any deduction being drawn from these figures in their possible bearing on the question of sufficiency of supply.

Chairman Nolan of the house investigating committee made public telegraphic messages from representative operators of the central field, which, he said, "were not entirely hopeless" in their refusal to accede to the committee's request to renew interstate negotiations with the union.

Spirit of Willingness.

"They did indicate," he stated, "a spirit of willingness to meet the men in their own districts."

Mr. Watkins, in appearing before the house committee, attacked the United Mine Workers of America as "setting up a smoke screen, familiar union tactics," in charging operators with breach of contract. The union itself, he said, was breaking the contract, because it refused to meet with mine owners in the great producing districts of the country outside of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Western Pennsylvania to fix scales. It would be "financial suicide," he added, for the group he represented to continue making its wages on the basis of the interstate agreement for which negotiations have been begun, and he accused the union leaders of "autocratic abuse of power," in calling the national strike.

The attorney general's statement of his position was contained in a letter to Representative Bland, Republican of Indiana, who had referred to repeated statements by operators that interstate wage agreements possibly constituted violations of the Sherman anti-trust law. Mr. Daugherty stated, however, that he considered it a "duty of the operators and miners to hold such negotiations," and he asked if after taking that position it was "likely that the department of justice would undertake a prosecution."

A Fight to the Finish.

New York, April 6.—Predicting that the nation will be in the midst of a bituminous coal famine in six weeks unless the present strike is settled, Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, tonight declared "congressional law" must be seen to what the country is up against.

Mr. Murray's statement was made shortly after John L. Lewis, president of the mine worker's international organization, asserted that the refusal of operators in the central competitive field to enter into a wage agreement with the labor committee was "a fight to the finish."

In support of his prediction of a famine, Mr. Murray asserted that the stock piles of the country contain only 60,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, of which 20,000,000 tons are already in the bins of the consumer. At the present rate of consumption of 8,000,000 tons a week, the 40,000,000 tons will suffice for only another five weeks, according to Mr. Murray's figure.

Claims of the operators that the non-union miners would prolong the nation's supply to eight weeks were denied by the union leader. Latest reports from non-union strongholds, he said, indicate that 75 per cent of the non-union men would have walked out with the strikers before the end of the week. Fifty per cent already have done so, he said.

PITTSBURGH AND SOUTHERN OHIO OPERATORS DECLINE

Pittsburgh, April 6.—The Pittsburgh Coal Producers association today said in a telegram to Representative Nolan, chairman of the house labor committee, that it had definitely abandoned the four-state joint wage conference and declined his invitation to participate in the conference called to meet in Washington next Monday.

The association took the position that such a conference was in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law because federal grand juries had indicted coal associations, the United Mine Workers of America and at least one company for taking part in such conferences as was proposed.

Columbus, Ohio, April 6.—Southern Ohio, at the invitation of coal operators today added their refusal to the invitation of John J. Nolan, chairman of the house labor committee, for a joint conference of representatives of the central competitive field and the United Mine Workers of America to negotiate a wage scale and determine working conditions, called for April 10.

The Ohio operators reiterated they were ready to meet mine workers of this district and declared "we cannot under any circumstances contemplate entering into any joint meeting with the states proposed whose conditions of market and improvement are such as to permit them to operate their mines and give their men more employment than we can give the miners of Southern Ohio."

Brooklyn Supreme Court Jury Acquits Cincinnati Nurse of First Degree Murder

'SUSPENSE IS OVER'

Woman Receives Verdict Calmly and Is Cheered by Crowded Court Room

New York, April 6.—Olivia M. P. Stone, who shot and killed Ellis G. Kinkadee, former corporation counsel of Cincinnati, August 5, 1921, tonight was acquitted of murder by a jury in the Brooklyn supreme court.

Hundreds of men and women who had gathered outside the court room cheered repeatedly when the verdict was announced, while those in the crowded court room also applauded. The defendant, in contrast to her highly-nervous condition throughout the trial, received the verdict calmly.

"Thank you," she said inclining her head at the jury. Then she turned and shook hands with her attorney, Edward J. Reilly, and resumed her seat.

When the verdict was announced, Justice Aspinall said: "The laws of the state of New York provide in all criminal actions the jurors are sole judges of the facts of the crime. The jurors must receive the law from the court and apply it to the facts. I charged you with the correct law this morning. You accepted this law and applied it to the facts, and under your oath of office as exclusive judges you have found this defendant not guilty of murder in the first degree. This court must bow to your wishes and accept your verdict."

"You have done a great duty. Your verdict may not be approved by some and may be approved by others. While the law is on the statute books of this state it must be obeyed. I trust that in the remainder of your lives you will never again be called upon to perform such an important duty as you have performed in this case."

Justice Aspinall then turned to Miss Stone and asked her to stand. "Miss Stone," he said, "you have been accorded a fair and impartial trial. I have endeavored to hold the scales of justice equally balanced between you and the people of this state. Twelve reputable citizens have said you are not guilty under the law. I therefore discharge you and you are now a free woman."

Miss Stone was led into an ante-room by her attorney and two matrons of the Raymond street jail. She looked ten years younger than she did when she appeared on the witness stand a few days before. Women spectators in the court room showered her with flowers.

"I'm the happiest woman in the world," she said. "I'm a free woman now. I can go where I please. At last the suspense is over."

GOVERNMENT ALWAYS SEEKS EFFICIENCY, SAYS COOLIDGE

Detroit, April 6.—Vice President Coolidge concluded his two-day visit to Michigan today as a luncheon guest at the Detroit Athletic club, where he spoke briefly in praise of the Harding administration. He was accompanied on his return to Washington by Representative Patrick A. Kelley, who had escorted him to Lansing, where he spoke at a Republican gathering.

Commenting on a tour of an automobile plant here in his speech, the vice president said he had "marveled at the organization and efficiency shown," and he continued: "We are trying at Washington to get the same organization and efficiency into the federal government. We are reorganizing departments, trying to bring more of the efficiency of private enterprises into the nation's business."

RAILROAD SHOPMEN LITTLE OPPOSED TO PIECE WORK

Buffalo, April 6.—Little opposition to the piece work and contract basis in the railroad shops was expressed by the convention of Division No. 2, Railroad Employees' Department, American Federation of Labor, which ended its sessions here today. Resolutions on this subject were referred back to the resolutions committee, which was empowered to bring the subject before the general convention of the department in Chicago next week.

Resolutions were adopted pledging moral and financial aid to the mine workers during their present strike. No action was taken on a proposal for a strike in sympathy with the miners.

MILLION DOLLAR OIL FRAUD IS DISCLOSED IN BOSTON

Blanton of Texas a Disgrace to Party, His Colleague Declares in Fiery Speech

HOUSE IN UPROAR

"You Know You Are a Liar," Sumner Shouts at Blanton, Who Later Leaves Chamber

Washington, April 6.—For the third time within a year, the house was thrown into an uproar today with Representative Blanton, Democrat, of Texas, the object of a fiery speech in a fiery ten-minute speech. Representative Garner, Democrat of Texas, declared that Mr. Blanton was "as common a liar as ever spoke a word of English in this country." Mr. Blanton, however, was not there to hear the characterization, for he left the chamber at the outset of the verbal attack, after shouting that he would "hold the gentleman personally responsible to me if he calls me a liar."

Standing six feet away, Mr. Garner held up his hand during the confusion, asking for order and requesting Mr. Blanton not to leave. But responding to a clash of the speaker's gavel, sergeants-at-arms had rushed in to prevent what appeared to be an open break when Representative Sumners, also of Texas, sitting in the front row, started toward Mr. Blanton, shouting, "You know you are a liar."

Denouncing Alleged "Petty Graft." The trouble started while Mr. Blanton, in denouncing a recent report of a speech he had made recently in Texas, declared that members could not afford "these measly items of petty graft," referring to mileage and the funds allotted each session to members for stationery and supplies.

Mr. Blanton retorted that he had received him to Lansing, where he spoke at a Republican gathering. Commenting on a tour of an automobile plant here in his speech, the vice president said he had "marveled at the organization and efficiency shown," and he continued: "We are trying at Washington to get the same organization and efficiency into the federal government. We are reorganizing departments, trying to bring more of the efficiency of private enterprises into the nation's business."

Disgrace to the House. "It is a hard thing to say what is in one's mind about an individual. I say I have the firm conviction that I believe this individual creature would dishonor the virtue of his own family to accumulate wealth or to put himself forward from a political standpoint."

"I regret, Mr. Speaker, that I cannot speak what is in my mind. But if I could forget the rules of the house I would say that Thomas L. Blanton is a disgrace to the house and ought to be kicked out."

Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican leader, in a general reply to Representative Blanton, declared that in the 25 years of his service in the house he could count on one finger of one hand the number of Democratic members who would "stoop to petty graft, or otherwise."

Declaring his speech in Texas was in entire accord with what he formerly had said in the house, and was saying today, Blanton in his speech mentioned a number of articles, including whiskey flasks and poker chips, which he said members could get from the stationery room and charge them to some length on mileage and listed the amounts paid to the members from Texas, and was proceeding when his time expired with a statement that the wife of one member had attempted to obtain coal from the room and the wife of another had tried to get a pair of shoes repaired.

GEN. SEMENOFF UNDER ARREST

Anti-Bolshevik Military Leader in Siberia Accused of $475,000 Theft

BRANDED 'RUFFIAN'

General Thought He Was Getting Welcome Instead of Warrant on Arrival in New York

New York, April 6.—Arrested here upon his arrival from Washington in connection with a civil suit involving the theft of wool-stuffs and furs, property of the now-bankrupt firm of Yousavata Home and Foreign Trade Company, Inc.

The order of arrest had been requested by counsel for receivers of the Yousavata company. Their request was accompanied by affidavits from Major General William S. Graves, commander of the American Expeditionary Force in Siberia, and Charles H. Smith, American representative on the International railway committee. Both were said to have denounced the general in their affidavits, referring to him as a "bandit" and a "ruffian."

Reception Committee Does Duty

The general, when arrested, was accompanied by his wife, a beautiful woman, exquisitely gowned and wearing a necklace of gems she said was worth $50,000, and his secretary and interpreter, Misak Alvaizov, who was employed at Vancouver, B. C.

The anti-Bolshevik leader had been told, he said, that he would be cordially received in New York and that he would be given quarters befitting "the terror of Red battalions." The general's deputies, two squads of reporters and a Pullman porter composed the reception committee.

One of the deputies who had learned how the general had won fame, stepped forward timidly, handed him the order of arrest, then jumped back. Then the general bowed and Madame Semenoff smiled. The general evidently was preparing to deliver an address of thanks when his interpreter stepped into the scene.

When Alvaizov had convinced the general that he was under arrest, Madame Semenoff burst into tears and took off her necklace and offered it as security if they would let her husband go free. But the general quoted her and asked permission to go to the hotel for several hours before being taken to jail. He said he thought he would find friends who would help him.

The winners will meet in two games tomorrow night, the two successful ones playing off the championship for the state Saturday night.

The tournament sanctioned by the state department of education, has aroused intense interest throughout the state and the contests tonight were witnessed by a large crowd.

WASHINGTON POLICE SEARCH TRAIN FOR JEWEL ROBBERS

Washington, April 6.—Three squads of policemen searched trains arriving from New York tonight for three men and a woman wanted in connection with the robbery at the home of Albert R. # ONEIDA DAIRYMEN SECURE TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

Leland W. Livermore of Bridgewater and Henry A. Palmer were the petitioners. They alleged that the defendants conspired to prevent the sale of milk except through their agents in New York and adjacent states.

SIMS URGES U. S. NAVAL SUPREMACY

Most Eloquent Tribute That Can Be Paid to Those Who Sacrificed Lives, He Says

New York, April 6.—A united public demand for 100 per cent American naval supremacy, ready to meet any national emergency, is the most eloquent tribute that can be paid the veterans who sacrificed their lives in the World War, Rear Admiral William S. Sims told a patriotic gathering in Town hall tonight.

The occasion was a remembrance meeting under the auspices of the Soldiers and Sailors club in honor of the veterans of the European conflict and those who died in the allied cause.

Criticizing as "preparation for defeat" in the event of another war the proposal in congress to cut the naval personnel of 13,000 men in half, Admiral Sims called upon citizens, "as a duty to those gallant men, to notify representatives in Washington of their conviction that naval, as well as military forces, should be kept at all times adequately prepared for national defense."

Admiral Sims pointed out the "deficiency" of our forces and costly mistakes of the navy department at the outbreak of and during the World War as an example by which the nation should profit in the future. At the time, he said, they were necessarily concealed from the enemy and consequently from our own people but since the investigation has been established as facts by senate investigation.

FOUR DEATHS LIKELY TO FOLLOW STILL EXPLOSION

New York, April 6.—A still which exploded today in the Ninth avenue apartment of Dumostoni Katsanios killed one of his children, aged 3, and so seriously injured him and his two other children that it was feared tonight all would die.

A guard was stationed over the father and his wife, who were taken to a hospital, arrested on a charge of violating the state prohibition law.

The explosion threw the neighborhood into a panic.

SYRACUSE STUDENT CAN'T SURVIVE ON $5,000 A YEAR

The money comes from Blum's estate of $175,000. The guardian said his former allowance was not enough to permit for his education, including the high cost of tuition, living expenses and clothing.

BRINGING OCEAN TO LAKES.

Boston, April 6.—More than one-third of the population of the country favors the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence river route to the Atlantic ocean, Senator Russell of Louisiana declared tonight in an address on "Carrying the Ocean to the Great Lakes" before the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce.

The project, he said, was national in scope and when completed would be comparable to the Suez and Panama canals.

The diva had intended wearing the jewels at a concert in San Diego tonight.

SPEAKER TELLS HOSTS THEY ARE LAW VIOLATORS

District Attorney Banton Censures Banquet Crowd for Drinking Pre-Volstead Stuff

NEW YORK AROUSED

Police Commissioner and Prosecutor Unite to Make Things Lively for Criminals

New York, April 6.—After watching some of his hosts, members of the Harlem Chamber of Commerce, grow steadily more convivial at their annual banquet tonight, District Attorney Banton devoted a considerable portion of his speech—the evening's principal address—to censuring them as violators of the Volstead act.

"Some of these times," he said, "you are going to wake up at one of these dinners and find yourselves in pretty serious trouble. Just realize that in violating one law you indicate a disregard for all laws. The hold-up men, the burglar commit crimes because they disregard the law. Possibly they have seen some respectable citizen violating another law and reason accordingly, and then they realize that in that sort of reasoning."

Mr. Banton said later that there was little enthusiasm in the answering applause when he warned: "There's going to be an enforcement of the law in this country, or I'll know the reason why."

His address was on "The Difficulty of Law Enforcement in New York." His admonition delivered, Mr. Banton outlined the difficulties of law enforcement in general, touched on the New York crime wave, deplored the manner in which the local newspapers published stories of and existing criminal conditions, and took occasion to add his denial to that of the police that "New York is the most crime-ridden city in the country."

Dealing with the new responsibilities placed upon him through Governor Miller's signing of a bill giving the district attorney's office control of criminal court calendars, he took his audience to task for "dodging jury duty," and allowing "incompetent jurors who permit criminals to go free" to take their places.

Nine-Platoon Police System

New York, April 6.—Urged by Governor Miller to make New York a safe city to live in, Police Commissioner Enright and District Attorney Banton united today to make things lively for the criminals whose daring deeds recently have startled the citizenry.

Although the commissioner never has conceded newspaper charges that the city is experiencing a crime wave, as indicated by an unofficial record of 93 homicides and 103 hold-ups since January 1, it became known tonight that orders had been issued at headquarters which by substituting the nine-platoon system for the ten will make about 600 more policemen available for patrol duty daily. The order giving the uniformed force 22 hours off once every nine days instead of every seven became effective at midnight.

At the same time, the district attorney's office promptly accepted the responsibility placed upon it by the governor of seeing that criminals were whipped up before the bar of justice as soon as possible after they were arrested.

Measures signed by the governor, providing for six more assistant district attorneys and additional courts, could do much to clear the calendars, Mr. Banton said.

So daring has banditry become in this city that the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York today directed a committee to confer with officials regarding ample police protection; other organizations have suggested issuing pistols to the citizenry; and Magistrate House, in traffic court, armed his 12 attendants in case robbers broke in upon his sessions to collect the rich harvest of fines reaped from speedsters.

FARMER MEMBER FAVORED.

Washington, April 6.—Favorable report of the senate bill providing for the appointment of a farmer as a member of the federal reserve board was ordered today by the house banking committee.

OPPOSE DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Syracuse, April 6.—Residents of Cortland, at a special election today, voted against daylight saving. The vote was 644 for and 1,119 against. The Geneva common council voted today to continue on standard time.

Galli-Curci Gems Stolen, Said to Be Worth $100,000

San Juan Capistrano, Cal., April 6.—A robbery of jewelry and cash valued at $100,000, was reported today by a woman who said she was with a "direction she is appearing in concert in this section, said tonight a newspaper in "guarantee $100,000." The diva had intended wearing the jewels at a concert in San Diego tonight.

A special patrol of motorcycle officers was on duty on highways throughout Southern California tonight in an effort to apprehend the two "blond girls," supposed to have taken the jewelry. All city policemen in the southern part of the state also were warned to watch for the pair.

ELECTRICAL POWER

When water flows through a pipe it encounters the resisting effect caused by friction between itself and the inner wall of the pipe. Some of the mechanical energy of the water is used up in overcoming this friction and is changed into heat energy. Friction between two blocks of wood will also cause some of the mechanical energy exerted to be transformed into heat, and the blocks get warm. In fact, friction anywhere causes heat to a greater or lesser extent.

It is not hard, then, to imagine that electrical energy may be transformed into heat when a current of electricity encounters resistance in its path of flow, which we call a circuit. There is no circuit possible which has absolutely no resistance; therefore, whenever an electric current flows there must be some work done in overcoming the resistance of the circuit. That is, some energy must be converted into heat, however little it may be. It is quite possible, however, to create such a high temperature in a wire as to melt it.

The amount of heat created is proportional to the resistance being overcome, the length of time the current is flowing and the current strength times itself. Expressed in a simple algebraic equation, this is:  $P = I^2 R$ . Now, the rate at which this energy is expended, or the rate at which the "power" is accomplished, is called the "power." And since we are speaking of electricity we may call it "electrical power."

The electrical power is, then, of course, the total energy expended in a certain length of time in seconds divided by that number of seconds. In other words, it is the amount of energy expended every second. The unit of electrical power is the "watt," named after James Watt, who did considerable work on the earliest steam engines. Expressed algebraically, electric power, or we may say simply "power," is as follows:

Power (in watts) = Current (amperes) squared  $\times$  Resistance (ohms)
The watt is at times rather a small unit to use, so a unit called "kilowatt," which means 1,000 watts, is often used.

KEEP EGGS WITH WATER GLASS

Low Prices Make April and May Good Time to Preserve Hen Fruit for Later Use—The Method.

It has, April 6.—Eggs to be used next fall and winter are being put down in water glass during April and May while they are cheap; they will keep as long as a year if the directions given out by the home economics workers at the state agricultural college here are followed.

Only absolutely fresh eggs should be preserved. If there is any doubt as to the freshness of the eggs, they should be candied. Dirty eggs or eggs that have been washed should not be used. Washed eggs will not keep because the protective coating has been removed by the washing, and dirty eggs will become tainted in the water glass.

If one uses the commercial water glass, which may be bought at any drug store, three-quarters of a quart of water glass should be mixed with nine quarts of pure water. Water that has been boiled and then cooled is preferable. The mixture should be stirred until the ingredients are thoroughly mixed. A water glass in powder form has been put on the market. This is satisfactory for use if directions are followed.

Stone Jar Best.

A clean stone jar is the most suitable container. One eight-gallon jar is sufficient for fifteen dozen eggs; this quantity will require the amount of solution just prescribed. The eggs should be placed in the water glass so that those at the top are covered by at least two inches of the liquid. The jar had best be covered in order to prevent evaporation. The jar needs to be stored in a cool place where it will be undisturbed during the year.

The housekeeper who wants to save space need not go down cellar every time she wants an egg, but may take enough eggs out of the water glass to last several days, providing, of course, she has a cool place to keep them.

TRADING ASSUMES VAST DIMENSIONS

Over Seventy Issues Score Highest Quotations of Year; All Stocks Carried Forward

New York, April 6.—Trading on the stock exchange today assumed the vast dimensions of the hectic days of the World War. Sales, at extreme gains of one to six points, aggregated 1,575,000 shares.

Over 70 issues scored highest quotations of the year and in many instances for two or more years were established. Virtually all classes of stocks were carried forward by the movement, which probably contained the largest number of separate issues over traded in at this center.

The same causes which gave momentum to the markets of the past week were again the controlling factors, namely, cumulative signs of financial, industrial and commercial revival. These are mostly clearly expressed by the keen inquiry for new underwritings, domestic and foreign; steady expansion of iron and steel at higher prices, and marked gains by railroads in earnings.

Steels, motors, equipments and oils, more or less in the order named, were the conspicuous features of the day, but rails, shipping, chemicals, leathers, textiles, tobaccos and utilities helped to swell the enormous turnover.

Selling for profits, such as inevitably accompanies such a sweeping advance, made a pronounced impression upon prices in the last hour, the realizing movement being attended by an advance in call money from four and one-half to five per cent. United States Steel common closed at a slight loss and other steels and related issues suffered correspondingly.

On the other hand, oils, especially Mexican and Pan-American Petroleum, Market Street Railway preferred and prior preferred, United Railways investment, and several of the railroads, notably Reading and Texas & Pacific, rose to the day's highest figures.

Unlike the stock market, bonds showed no pronounced extension of operations but the tone in almost every division was strong, sentiment being influenced by the ready sale of the Czechoslovak $14,000,000 issue.

Liberty 3½s and several of the 4s duplicated, or exceeded, previous high records. Foreign war notations made no material change, but strongest features of that group were the Mexican 5s and Chinese railway 5s.

An unusual number of domestic rails rose to high records of a year or more.

CAMBON BEGINS NEW CAREER IN FINANCE

Noted French Statesman, on 76th Birthday, Becomes Vice President of Paris Bank

Paris, April 6.—Jules Cambon, who has just resigned the chairmanship of the Council of Allied Ambassadors, to whom was left the settlement of questions left over by the Paris Conference, began a new career in finance on his 76th birthday, April 5. He has just become vice president of the Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas.

M. Cambon began his diplomatic career when he was 31 by his appointment as Ambassador to Washington. He was extremely successful as Civil Administrator in France, having been Prefet or Departmental Governor in the important Region of the North and of the Rhone, the principal city of which is Lyons. Then he became Governor General of Algeria and it was after that service that he was transferred to diplomacy.

While in Washington he also represented Spain during the Spanish-American War and arranged the preliminaries of peace between Spain and the United States. Four years later he became French Ambassador at Madrid and then in Berlin, where he was at the beginning of the war.

Since then he has had continuously an important relation with French foreign affairs, having been for some time Secretary General of the Ministry for Foreign Affairs, a post created for him and for nearly three years the French representative and the preceding officer of the Council of Ambassadors.

ALL OFF FOR ADIRONDACKS.

An invitation is extended to the people of the state to to enjoy all the Adirondacks offer in outdoor entertainment and recreation. The invitation is extended by Conservation Commissioner Macdonald and he hopes that as many as can will accept. He is confident that many will, and that this summer will see more campers in the mountains than ever. The commissioner is a lover of outdoors, having been born and brought up in the north country, and he believes that the people of the Adirondacks should be permitted to get all the pleasure the hills and dales provide.

It has been the policy of the Conservation commission to open up as many camping sites as possible in the mountains, and last year many took advantage of what the state had done to attract lovers of out-of-doors to the north country. Camps were established with conveniences near running water, and where, if not all, many of the comforts of home could be obtained. There will be more camps opened this year, which will mean accommodations for a greater number than were available in 1921.

The purpose of Commissioner Macdonald is to make it known to as many people as possible that they are welcome to occupy the sites and that they are occupying what actually belongs to them. The state will be additional trails blazed so that campers and trampers will be able to hike deeper into the hills and to reach many of the mountain tops hitherto attempted by only a few who could engage a guide. With the trails blazed there will be no danger of confusion, and the adoption of this policy will make the region even more popular.

FARMING IN NEW YORK.

The day of specialized farming has about had its swing and diversity of crops is again taking its place in the run as the most practical plan for the average agriculturist, according to the latest bulletin of the Farm Brokers' association, which is conducting an agricultural education movement.

Specialized farming looks well in theory, the association says, but in actual practice the farmer finds that in diversity lies his greatest gain.
The poultryman discovers that he needs grain at cost prices. He learns that what his chickens pick up in the yard as waste from other animals is clear gain. He comes to know that other things combined with poultry afford him a seasonable distribution of labor that makes money.
In short, the average farmer finds that in diversity there is profit and in specialization there is worry.

And in this diversity of crops, New York state farms lead the nation.
Nearness to markets and low transportation costs guarantee the New York farmer ready disposal of any kind of crop and he does not have to place sole reliance in any single field.

That is why scores of Middle Western farmers are coming "back east" and why the Empire State farms are holding their present price level, while those in the west are declining.

UNITE AGAINST MOTOR THIEVES

Stolen Car Brokers Find Farmer to Be Excellent Prospect.

Stolen car bulletins issued regularly with car number, motor number and owners' names, is one of the means the manufacturer is taking to cooperate with police bureaus throughout the country and help owners recover cars which have been stolen.

The plan used by Dodge Brothers, Detroit, is endorsed by New York and Detroit officials. Judge Fish, of the Brooklyn Traffic Court, describes it as an excellent plan and one which should increase the number of convictions for motor car thefts. Dodge Brothers maintain a department to deal with motor car thefts reported by owners and insurance companies.
Every two weeks the complete list reported is sent to Dodge Brothers dealers and service stations in all parts of the country. Copies of the bulletin are also mailed to a national list of police bureaus.

A prominent police official state that the cars which are stolen in Detroit each year go not only to neighboring cities and farm communities, but to points far removed. Cars which are recovered in Detroit sometimes have been brought there from the Pacific Coast as well as from far distant eastern and southern cities.

A favorite scheme of the shrewd stolen car merchant is to pass himself off as the representative of an insurance company, in this way accounting plausibly for the low price he is asking for the cars. The farmer is considered a good stolen car prospect, and if the stolen car broker finds a fertile field for his wares in one farm community, he may go back again and again disposing of his cars in that vicinity. That is why whole fleets of stolen cars are sometimes driven back to the cities by detectives.

Dodge Brothers stolen car services is commended by Inspectors Jackson and Parker, prominent Detroit police officials, as "a splendid service" and "a great help to us and to other police departments."

CLIPPINGS FROM EXCHANGES

Sacredness of Treaties.

Premier Poincare will have no tampering with the treaty of Versailles at Genoa. He protests: "We have a treaty with Germany signed by her and by the Allies. That treaty must remain sacred. It shall not be touched at Genoa." Well, there was a treaty of Sevres; isn't that just as sacred as the other? And France has been touching it at every point. It touched it at London in February, 1921. It sent an envoy to Angora to negotiate a treaty with the Turk, who heads the resistance to the treaty. It touched it some more in Paris last month.
Why does France insist on regarding the two treaties so differently?— [Philadelphia Record.]

"Found in a Bottle."

The idea of the manuscript in a bottle floating at sea has had such an appeal to the romantic and inventive faculty that one cannot be sure whether it belongs more to fiction than reality. In declining to credit the note, reported to have been found in a bottle saying that the mysterious sinking of the Cyclops was the work of a German submarine, the Navy Department has good grounds.—[New York Sun.]

"Louvain Week."

"Weeks" of various significance
"tread upon another's heels, so fast they follow, and the feeling that this method of concentrating attention on some single object is being overdone is not unnatural. But a good word may none the less be said for "Louvain week," which is the present one in the calendar. It will be recalled that the restoration of the library at the University of Louvain, devastated by the German hordes, has been undertaken by Americans. The cornerstone of the new building was laid last year by the President of Columbia university.
—[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Plant Big Acreage.

According to the Farm Brokers' association foreign markets will demand $2,000,000,000 worth of farm products from the United States this year.

To meet an export requirement of more than 10 per cent of the total of their crops, American farmers are planning to plant huge acreages in staple crops. New York will share largely in this increased production because this state is well located for markets and produces a diversity of crops. The coming season is expected to prove the value of nearness of market and to stimulate the rehabilitation of agriculture in the East.

New Under the Sun.

Being unable to appear personally before his constituents, United States Senator New, of Indiana, delivered a political speech at Washington recently, which was transmitted a distance of 600 miles, by radio-telephone to city voters and farmers who have telephones in their homes. This was the first long-distances speech delivered by wireless, and it is said to have been successful.—[Springfield Republican.]

Man's Belt Line.

A recent English visitor returned home and wrote an article for one of the British magazines criticizing the slimness of the waists of American young men. He expressed a fear that this country was drifting away from sturdy old physical standards.

Miss Amelia Bingham, in a Philadelphia lecture, went the other way.
She declared that men should wear corsets to avoid slouchiness; "trim-ness," she said, "is desirable in men as well as in women."

The English writer was deceived by the tight belted coats that recently were in vogue. Miss Bingham also is mistaken. Men with globular outlines do not need corsets. What they lack is training. No man who stands upright and holds his chest out and his waist in takes an obesity.

Business Brothers.

President Neilson of Smith College was making a rather tedious journey and was glad when the man who had the seat in front of him turned around and began a conversation. The man proved to be a traveling salesman, and took it for granted that Dr. Neilson was another. "What's your line?" he asked.
"Mine's skirts." "Well so is mine," said the president of Smith. —[New York Evening Post.]

Liked Him.

Little Louise was let on the police station. The officers tried in every way to learn her name. Finally one of the officers said, "What name does your mother call you father?"
"Why, said Louise very innocently, "she don't call him any names; she likes him." —[Harper's Magazine.]

Most Unusual Horse Picture of the Season

Many photographs of spills in steeplechases have come from England this year, but none so thrilling as this. St. Bernard fell over Awbeg in the Grand National Steeplechase at Bechers Brook. The former horse broke his neck, but both jockeys escaped although one was pitched on his head and the other was caught under the falling horse.

WILL RECEIVE SCANT MERCY

In Imposing Jail Sentences Upon Young Men Caught Passing Insulting Remarks to Women, Judge Huntington Gives Warning to Future Offenders.

With the statement that men caught loitering about the streets and passing insulting remarks girls and women would be severely dealt with if arraigned before him, Judge Huntington sentenced Vincent Calvey, 18, and Paul Kerns, 20, to 10 days each in the county jail and fined each one $10 in city court Wednesday afternoon. Kerns paid his fine but Calvey was unable to do so and must spend ten days additional at Cooperstown.

The pair were arrested Wednesday afternoon when they were observed making remarks, accompanied by insulting gestures, to young women passing along Main street in front of the Wilber bank.

Calvey claims to live in Moosic, Pa., and Kerns in Pittston, Pa. They stated that they were seeking work in Oneonta and were bothering young women for the purpose of "settling accounts."

Judge Huntington was righteously indignant because of the actions of the young men and in sentencing them outlined what will be his policy in similar cases in the future. He stated that there was too much of that sort of business going on daily and that it must be stopped. Characterizing loafers who pass insulting remarks to women as they pass as lacking in every manly instinct, Judge Huntington indicated that they would receive scant mercy if brought before him.

Hints at Larger Dividends.

New York, April 6.—George W.
Fairchild, chairman of the board of directors of the Computing-Tabulating-Recording company, stated at the annual meeting Tuesday that there has been a decided improvement in all branches of the company's business and that for the first two months of the current year earnings ran over 20 per cent. on the stock. "Additions to our plants which started in 1920," he said, "have all been completed and paid for, which places us in a position to take care of substantial increases in business without any matter of further outlay for additional facilities. These facts, together with greatly improved volume of business, obtained during the last few months, justifies the belief that there are better things ahead for our stockholders in the near future."

the bill dating the open season on partridge Oct. 1 instead of Oct. 15, the closing season remaining person may take not more than three birds in a day and not to exceed 15 in the open season.

THE PUBLIC ON THE HIGHWAYS

Useful Information Embodied in Instructions by Justice Kellogg to Chenango County Grand Jury.

During the forenoon session on Wednesday of the Chenango county grand jury, in session at Norwich, the body filed into the court room, where Justice A. L. Kellogg was holding the spring trial term of supreme court and asked for instructions as to duties of travelers on the highway. While it was not stated in court it was evident the jury wanted information which would guide it in arriving at a decision regarding the case of Jack Thompson, who had been held for action on a charge of manslaughter.
Thompson is the driver of a car which struck and knocked down Charles Fisher at Oxford, resulting in the latter's death.

Justice Kellogg told the jury that "everyone has a right to use the streets and highways and that it is the duty of every person whether on foot, using a horse or driving an automobile to see to it as far as may be able that they do not interfere in an unlawful manner to the rights and uses of every other person."

Duty of Motorists.

Continuing, Justice Kellogg spoke as follows: "It is a duty driving an auto to use reasonable care, care of an average man, that is, care having in view the place where he is and the amount of traffic. At the first approach of danger it is his duty to turn aside and avoid it, to avoid the happening of an accident if possible.
It is his duty when approaching a street corner to sound the horn, to signal if he wishes to change his direction of driving."

Rights of Pedestrians.

The rights of pedestrians were also reviewed by the court as follows: "It is the duty of the person crossing the street to be diligent of his own safety.
It is his duty to look as he proceeds or crosses a street, but the law does not say where he shall look or how often.
He should use all his senses to keep out of danger. He is required to use the same degree of care that an auto driver uses."

Jurors ask Questions.

After the court had finished with these few instructions he inquired if the jurors understood him. One juror arose and asked the question, "Would a man be liable if driving faster than 15 miles per hour?"

The court answered by reviewing the highway and speed laws of the state and told the jurors they must take into consideration the care the driver used, the surrounding conditions and circumstances.

Another juror inquired if pedestrians crossing a street walk had more rights than an approaching auto.

"The rights of both are equal," said Justice Kellogg. "The rights of neither are paramount and both should use reasonable care, such as an average man should use."

WORK OF COMMERCE CHAMBER

Matters of Public Interest Considered At Directors Meeting Yesterday.

Publication of a new edition of maps of the City of Oneonta was ordered yesterday by the Board of Directors of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce. The last issue of city maps, also gotten out by the Chamber, was in 1917. A new drawing is being made by City Engineer Gurney to bring the map up to date.

President Roscoe C. Briggs was authorized to appoint a committee to make necessary arrangements for the convention of the New York State Undertakers' Association to be held in Oneonta this June. He appointed L. J. Bookhouse, O. C. McCrum, Herbert Lewis, Benjamin C. Packer, Samuel R. Dibble and Ralph S. Wyckoff on the committee.

Among other discussion on matters of importance at the board meeting was the expressions of viewpoints between Dr. George J. Dunn and other of the directors as to the best means of encouraging more students to combine commercial courses with their fundamental High School training, and vice versa, because of the opportunities in business in Oneonta open to young men and women with this combined training. It was pointed out that many students who later go into business after graduation from High school have taken no commercial subjects, while others leave High school to take a short business school course and fail to obtain thorough fundamental knowledge of English and kindred subjects such as are gained in a four-year high school course.

In discussing the first address on Zoning arranged for Monday evening, April 17, it was decided to hold an informal conference between the speaker, Ernest P. Goodrich of New York, and various citizens particularly interested in the subject, on the afternoon of that date.

Professor Sanford Discusses Timely Topic at Woman's Club.

Prof. Frank G. Sanford was the speaker yesterday at the open house meeting of the Woman's club. His the modern journey back to nature and the simple delights typified by the goat-footed satyr of legend. The address is the first of three entertainments dealing with spring topics, the next being a paper on "Spring

ANOTHER BIG NIGHT

Smaller Crowd at Elks' Fair But Just as Much Fun
for All

THE MANY FEATURES PLEASE

Fair Experiences Slight Mid-Week Slump But Large Crowds Expected Tonight and Tomorrow — Tour of the World Continues to Prove Great Drawing Card — Star's Special Correspondent Files Report of Activities in France, Spain and Cuba.

The Elks' Fair and World Tour has been described in so many ways that nothing much that is new is left to Plain English must hence suffice this time. Last evening was the fourth of the fair and was again successful.
The crowd perhaps was a bit smaller than on preceding evenings, but the spirit of fun and enjoyment was in evidence everywhere and none who traveled on the limited trains that left the big terminal every few minutes regretted his decision to make the trip.

Interesting sights were to be seen, articles of great variety to be inspected and purchased, and amusement aplenty to be had.
From 5:30 when the dinner was served to well toward midnight, the splendid new Elks' home was well filled with persons eager to partake of the large assortment of surprises and delights.

In Wednesday's issue of The Star, the tour was described through Holland. Last night the ether was clear from disturbances and the remainder of the special correspondent's story came hurtling through space.

La Belle France.

As Holland is a low lying country, the traveler must take the train to arrive in France, his next objective.
Stepping out of the lift, which is realistic enough for anyone, the tourist finds himself in France, the arbitrator of whose destinies is Monsieur Eugene L. Ward, late Prince Charming at the Royal Court. Paris is naturally the place which the tourist desires to see first and the party is conducted at once to the Place de l' Opera in that city where an opportunity is afforded to inspect the famous Cafe de la Paix. Here wonderful French pastry can be purchased and few can resist the temptation to taste these delicate and tempting morsels.
Other articles on sale include candy, hand bags and imported cigarette holders. In France one is taken back to the days of old as he looks over the wine-list of the cafe. Beverages whose names are now to be found in the United States, only in works of reference grace the list and if the fact satisfies as of old they offer some consolation to one possessed of a vivid imagination.

A feature to be found here that has received little of the publicity that it deserves is the marvelous Majah of the mind. This is no imitation but the gentleman himself, direct from the Palace Theatre in New York. The Majah claims to see all and know all
and those who have witnessed his exhibitions state that he is fully as good as Majah, who appeared at the Oneonta Theatre some weeks ago.

Monsieur Ward is assisted in showing visitors that "this is Paris" by

ROTARY CLUB ACTIVITIES

Five New Members Elected—Formal

Installation Planned.
Five new members were elected by the Rotary club of Oneonta at its luncheon yesterday afternoon. They were Norman W. Getman, Roscoe C.
Briggs, Arthur Seybold, M. V. Beck-stedt, and Lee D. VanWoert.

Plans are being laid for the formal installation exercises of the club which will be conducted on the evening of April 20 by Earl I. Sealey of Waverly, governor of this Rotary district. The Majah claims to see all and know all
and those who have witnessed his exhibitions state that he is fully as good as Majah, who appeared at the Oneonta Theatre some weeks ago.

Smashes Into Light Post.

Taking too wide a curve as he swung from Broad street into Market early yesterday morning, C. Holbrook of 79 Main street, driving a Dodge roadster, rammed the building light post on the corner by the Brunswick hotel, breaking the globe and smashing so large a hole in the bottom of the post that only the wires held it up. The post was removed by Light and Power company employees during the morning. It will need to be repaired rather extensively before it can again do service. But slight damage was done to Holbrook's car.

Coal Strike Beginning to Affect D. & H. in Oneonta

Sixteen Freight Locomotives Withdrawn From Service; Reduction in Switch Crews Ordered For Today; Shop Men Will Be Affected

The D. & H. railroad company is commencing to feel the effects of the coal strike locally declared Division Superintendent M. F. Leamy in an interview with a representative of The Star yesterday. Already it has been necessary to retire 16 freight locomotives from service with a consequent lessening of hours of employment for all freight crews and today a cut is expected to be made in the number of switch crews working in the yards.

Mr. Leamy emphasized the fact that coal traffic constitutes at least 50 per cent of the business of the company and that any condition which curtailed coal shipments would necessarily lead to the lessening of the number of crews. That would also mean a slackening of work in the yards and shops and in fact in every department of the business.

No men have been laid off or furloughed, said Mr. Leamy. The crews collected when the freight locomotives were withdrawn from service are still in the various freight pools and will have to take their chances in runs. The abolition of several trains of course means less runs and will affect every man in the pools.
It was stated by Mr. Leamy that men would be furloughed only as a last resort.

The switch crews to be affected in the curtailments announced for today are not in pools and hence must bid

CHANCES AT THE ONEONTA

Mezzanine Floor Constructed Over a Section of the Lobby for Orchestra and the Ladies — Barber Shop Will Be Removed to Basement Where Room Formerly Occupied Will Be Enlarged.

Mr. Stanford has just completed at Hotel Oneonta in the lobby near the entrance to the present dining room a mezzanine floor, which is entered from the main stairway for the use of the string orchestra that is soon to arrive from New York city. It is a delightful one and commands a view of the entrance and of a large part of the lobby as well. It is to be used not only when not in use by the orchestra, but at the same time as well to the extent that the space will permit as a room for ladies.
This will give them when the orchestra is in contemplation are complete, and two rooms for their exclusive use.
The new four piece orchestra is expected to arrive shortly and to remain throughout the summer and the motoring season at least.

Mr. Stanford after carefully considering the need for lobby space and lounging room for the guests at the hotel has decided not to further encroach upon the lobby and the space in front of the cigar counter will be equipped with rugs and settees and made attractive.

When the room now occupied by the barber shop is taken over for the dining room, the barber shop will be moved by C. W. Reynolds into the basement. The room there formerly occupied by Mr. Reynolds and his force will be enlarged by the addition of a section of the billiard parlor, making ample space for seven chairs if desired. It will be well fitted up and the same quality service will be given all patrons.

THE WYOMING CONFERENCE

ROUTINE WORK OF SESSION IS STEADILY PROGRESSING.

Campaign Planned for Sabbath Observance with Rev. C. B. Henry as Assistant Superintendent—Plans for Sidney Camp Ground—Gift For Wyoming Seminary—Anniversary Program Saturday.

Binghamton, April 6.—Rev. C. B. Henry, pastor of the Worcester-Decatur charge of the Oneonta district, will have an important part in a campaign for additional Sabbath observance laws and for the enforcement of laws on the statute books of the nation and state, to be started by the Wyoming conference which is now holding its 11st annual session in Endicott.

The conference during this session will name Rev. Dr. Frank J. Niles as its representative in the fight and the Rev. Henry will be Dr. Niles' assistant. The fight is to be waged through the newly-rejuvenated New York State Lord's Day alliance.

The departure of Mr. Henry has detached service the pasting the Lord's Day alliance will leave a vacancy on his former charge in the Oneonta district, to be filled by District Superintendent Hensley. The name of the new incumbent will be known when the appointments are read next Monday.

The ministers at the conference are hearing much about the plans for making Sidney camp grounds, in the Oneonta district, the outdoor center of the whole conference. Much has been expected to improve the place and much more is probably to be spent the coming year, it is said. Superintendent Hensley is more than friendly toward the enterprise and strong support exists in Binghamton.

The gift of $100,000 to Wyoming seminary, the Methodist preparatory school at Kingston, Pa., was announced personally at the conference today by Dr. Levi I. Sprague, president of the school. The gift is from F. M. Kirby, of Wilkes-Barre, a member of the F. W. Woolworth company. Dr. John H. Race said this gift adds a $500,000 endowment fund and a great future for the seminary.

Various ministers praised the Nimonsburg Methodist Episcopal society for its determination to rebuild its church which was recently destroyed by fire. All the churches of the conference will take up a special collection in May to aid the society in this, as the result of a resolution passed by the members of the conference.

The report from Wyoming seminary, read by George M. Bell, of Kingston, Pa., secretary of the board of trustees, shows the institution to be in a prosperous condition.

The Wesleyan University Alumni association of the conference will hold an informal luncheon and reunion at the Hotel Frederick tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. Among the members of this association are Rev. Dr. B. M. Johns of Oneonta and Rev. George G. Summers of Windsor.

TELL HIM NOW

If with pleasure you are viewing Any work a man is doing. If you like him or you love him, tell him now. Don't withhold your approbation Till the parson makes oration, And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow; For no matter how you shout it, He won't really care about it; He won't know how many tear drops you have shed, If you think some praise is due him, Now's the time to slip it to him. For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead. More than fame and more than money Is the comment kind and sunny. And the hearty warm approval of a friend. For it gives to life a savor. And it makes you stronger, braver, And it gives you heart and spirit to the end. If he earns your praise—bestow it; If you like him, let him know it; Let the words of true encouragement be said. Do not wait till life is over And he's underneath the clover. For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead. —Anonymous

DR. HENSEY'S REPORT

RECORD OF ACCOMPLISHMENT AMONG CHURCHES OF THE ONEONTA DISTRICT

Enlarged Program Planned for Sidney Grove, Th. S. Summer.—How churches in Laurens, Otego, Unadilla Center, Gilbertsville and Oneonta have fared during conference year.

From the report of Dr. Hensey of the Oneonta district at Endicott yesterday, the following excerpts are taken:

Improvements at Sidney Grove.

The projected improvements at Sidney Grove were carried out. Two large dormitories, accommodating about 250 guests, were built; the kitchen quadrupled in size; the capacity of the dining room was increased from 90 to 350 diners; the speakers' stand reconstructed and extensive recreational grounds laid out and put in good condition. The $2,000 the trustees expected to expend grew to $3,000 before they got through. It will be recalled that the church of Sidney promised to raise $1,000 for these improvements while this annual conference pledged $1,100. Both will be paid.

At the annual session there an Inter-Denominational Bible school of three days' duration had an enrollment of about 100 delegates and was immediately followed by an Inter-Denominational Storehouse. Tithers' convention of astonishing size and interest. Then came the Wyoming conference Epworth League institute, $25 registered delegates. It is evident that these new features are in the line of Providential development and should be fostered.

This Summer's Program.

An enlarged program is being planned for the coming summer as follows:

1. A vocational Bible school of one week in duration. The board of schools of our church has promised three members for the faculty.
2. An Inter-Denominational Storehouse Tithers' convention to be supported by the entire conference.
3. An Epworth League institute of 700 delegates. This will require an additional dormitory, which cannot be undertaken without the assistance of the conference.

With Individual Churches.

Reference to individual churches in The Star's more immediate territory is made as follows:

In view of what has happened at Laurens it seems little less than amusing to recall that 14 months ago Laurens was trembling on the verge of extinction. A premature effort to hasten the process provoked a reaction and Laurens insisted upon having its own pastor. It had never paid a salary of more than $350, but did not hesitate to assume an obligation of $600, which soon grew to $800, which the fourth quarterly conference has advanced to $1,300. Extensive improvements costing more than $3,000 were made to the church and parsonage and paid for. The Rev. Frank J. Paul has proven to be the right man in the right place.

Extensive improvements have been made at Otego, including a new pipe organ and enlarged choir loft, new pulpit furniture, oak floor in the auditorium and oak pews. The auditorium and hall have been redecorated. Pastor Volz and his people are to be congratulated on these extensive betterments costing $5,500, all provided for before re-dedication.

Another notable achievement has been the entire reconstruction of the Unadilla Center church on the Wells Bridge charge. This fine open-country congregation now worships in a really new edifice. A basement, containing kitchen, heater and a large assembly hall. The auditorium has been given a new hard wood floor, new pews and pulpit furniture and altar rail, art glass windows and redecorated walls. The Rev. H. L. Snyder was the leader in this difficult undertaking. The total cost was $4,500, all of which is provided for.

Elm Park church, Oneonta, has its new parsonage well on the way to completion. Here one of the honored retired members of this conference has proven to be God's providential man for the past five years, guiding with his strong and wise hand this new organization through the perilous days of youth. The Rev. James C. Johnson will live in the affectionate memory of pioneer members of this thriving organization. Elm Park will increase its pastor's salary from $1,000 to $1,800.

Gilbertsville Church Disbands.

Record must be made of the saddest experience that has fallen to the lot of the district superintendent for the past 10½ years. He has seen closed churches opened, dying congregations and feeble beginnings developed into strong organizations, but never before has he been called upon to be present at the death of a Methodist Episcopal church. Four years ago, on the occasion of his first visit to the Gilbertsville church, he was shocked at the size of the congregation. A beautiful village, a lovely Sabbath, a commodious church and a very small handful of elderly people. Inquiry revealed the story of a gradual, uninterrupted decline stretching over a long term of years. Losses by death, removal and defection, with few or no additions, led to only one outcome. In spite of a commanding location and a fine equipment, this church would have closed its doors years ago, if it had not been for a productive endowment of some $7,000. Three years ago by the close vote of 5 to 4, the organization was continued. On Tuesday, March 28, by a vote of 8 to 1 it was decided to discontinue the services, disband the organization and transfer all of its assets into the hands of five trustees to be elected by this annual conference, to be known as the Gilbertsville Methodist Church foundation. This foundation must preserve intact the assets of the former Gilbertsville church, distributing the income therefrom annually to the needy of the Oneonta district.

The Storehouse Movement.

The Storehouse movement on the Oneonta district, static for much of the year, has recently shown marked activity. An association of 28 members has been organized at Oneonta Plains; Oxford has organized with 15 members and more promised; Sand Hill, on the Wells Bridge charge has organized with 16 members; Worcester has added 18 new members; Otego also increased its membership.

The most remarkable development has been in the First church, Oneonta. This association which has the largest per capita income in the conference, just held its own in the point of membership during the first two and a half years of its existence. Recently it raised the slot for 200 members during 1922. It is growing constantly, having increased from 109 to 169 since January 1. It is apparent that First church, Oneonta is to become one of the outstanding tithing churches of the denomination and possibly the leading storehouse church of the world.

Plans have been perfected for a district-wide stewardship and Centenary campaign from May 1 to June 15. There will be a two weeks stewardship reading contest in every church, accompanied by one week of intensive stewardship and Centenary activities, culminating in a stewardship Sabbath to be followed by an immediate Centenary re-canvass.

Spain the Next Stop.

The next stop made by the Elks' special is in Spain. The journey may have been long and tiresome—although few find it so—but ample recompense is gained for all discomforts in the land whose guiding spirit is Don Benjamin Packer. Spain is one of the show places of the entire trip. Here one can view at close range the Mosque of Cordova, a perfect example of pure Moorish architecture. Adjacent thereto is the famous Court of Oranges.

The articles which the tourist is privileged to inspect and purchase, if he so desire, are of infinite variety. Fancy embroidery, lingerie, tobacco, art novelties—the assortment is complete and remarkably low priced.

No replica of Spain is complete without a bull ring and Signor Packer's domain contains a particularly interesting one, where Fatima, the peerless dancer, is to be found. All are not privileged to witness the gyrations of this seductive creature, however. Another feature of this marvelous land are the dancing maidens, the Misses Helen Morris, Helen Fluehr, Helen Dibble and Irene Brand.

Others who assist Mr. Packer in making Spain one of the most attractive spots on the whole tour are Mrs. F. H. Herrick, Mrs. A. G. Russell, Mrs. Julian C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Marshall, Robert Marshall, Jr., Kenneth Yager and the Misses Helen Herrick, Clara Groh, Bessie R. Cowan, Marie Wendling, Marie Henderson, Helen Shearer, Clara Dinmore, Beatrice Warren and Cecil Cook.

Cuba—Mecca of the Tour.

Just as Cuba is the goal of so many in these days of anti-prohibition, so it is the last stop and final objective of the great Elks' Tour. But for different reasons. The real traveler finds in Cuba the satisfying of a thirsty ambition. He who travels with the Elks looks forward to Cuba as the place where he can find legitimate amusement of the most diversified and interesting sort. In Cuba, literally everything can be found.

Beautifully decorated with streamers of crepe paper and hanging lanterns of intricate design, the huge lodge room in which Cuba is located, is a place of beauty. At the back of the room a Cuban bar where every variety of soft drink can be found is partitioned off by lattice work. The sides are lined with booths, where everything from an ice cream cone to a "chammy" doll can be obtained. The well appointed stage is used for cabaret shows. In an anteroom nightly radio concerts are relayed by R. E. Brigham, this attraction being well patronized.

J. J. Gessen and C. R. McCarthy are in charge of Cuba and are assisted by a large corps of able assistants. A brief description of each booth and the names of the assistants follows: Cuban bar, home of soft drinks; Emory D. House, Carl L. Shearer, Mrs. Bertha Wright, Mrs. Minnie Haynes, Miss Eloise Evans, Chinese laundry, where articles of clothing are to be found; Bert Smith, Ronald Slade, Byron Chesbro, Marian Winans, Miss Vosburgh, Iceland, conducted by Purley Ice Cream company; Edward E. Desnoyers, Matthew Newcomb, Edith M. Bond, Mabel Knopf, Gertrude Killen, Frances Platt, Baby Doll booth; B. A. Traver, Mrs. F. H. Marx, Mrs. C. A. Moore, Josephine Martinman, Mrs. E. D. Shippey, Hazel Field, Auto Race booth; H. C. Brockway, Gertrude Miller, Gertrude Collation, Helen Smith, Margaret Dinmore, Meat Market, Lawrence Kenney, R. L. McGuinness, Roswell Wales, Everett Kniskern, Country Store; where everything from eggs that can't be beat on up and down the line can be purchased; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Finsgar, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leons, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Larson, Harvey Westcott, B. M. Finkman, Lee Ferman, Teddy Bear booth; E. J. Stack, J. L. Leal, A. W. Morse, C. V. Ceperly, Candyland, Albert Farone, Don Charles.

Later in the evening the dance hall on the promenade deck of the good ship B. P. O. E. was again well patronized. Canning's orchestra furnished a brand of music that kept the happy throng on their toes continually.

The Attractions Tonight.

Tonight is Old Home Night and a record throng is expected. The Odd Fellows, Maccabees and Moose have been invited to dinner as the guests of 1312 and many members of those fraternities are expected to attend. Dinner, with a menu of escalloped oysters, ham and roast pork, will be served by Chief Chef F. F. Gallagher and his assistants from 5:30 until 8 o'clock. The usual features with an augmented cabaret show, will be presented during the evening. Things will be lively in every country and especially in Cuba.
